Antioch's Part In Third Bond Drive Planned

Benefit Entertainment and House-to-House Canvass

Plans for Antioch's part in the nation-wide 15 billion dollar bond drive that will open Sept. 9 were discussed at a meeting of the local committee Monday evening.

Features of the Antioch township drive, according to the tentative plans, include an entertainment, and a house-to-house canvass. A newspaper campaign will be started in the near future.

R. A. Burgess of Zion, chairman of the district which includes Antioch, Lake Villa, Newport and Benton townships, was here to assist the local committee in formulating their plans. Burgess succeeds James Simpson, Jr., Wadsworth, who is now in service with the United States Marine corps.

Otto S. Klass is chairman of the Antioch township committee. William Weber heads the Lake Villa township group.

Atty. E. C. Jacobs has been appointed by Klass as drive chairman. Other committee members include George Wagner, H. B. Gaston, H. A. Smith, Norman Jeddle, Waller Hills, Clarence Crowley, George White, John Moran, O. L. Roether, Herman Holbek and Joseph Rhymer. In the absence of H. B. Gaston, who has been ill, Howard K. Gaston attended Monday evening's meeting.

Reports on progress made by the various township committees will be made at a meeting called for August 30 at Libertyville Central High school by James F. Stiles, Lake Bluff, who is Lake county chairman.

Plan To Restore Old Drainage Ditch

Work Will Be Started This Fall on the Excavation
Along "Wilmot Spur"

Work will be started soon by the village water and sewage department on cleaning out the old ditch along the "Wilmot spur."

The ditch, which was originally dug so long ago that even veteran village officials do not know when it was first excavated, has gradually become choked up with the passage of time, with silt, willows, weeds and other accumulations. It carries drainage from the northern part of the village into Rock Lake, and parallels for some three or four hundred yards the right-of-way along the spur from the Soo line to the Wilmot gravel pits.

Permission has been granted by the railroad to clean out the ditch. A search of railroad records has revealed no mention of the ditch, and it apparently originally was a village project, Village President George B. Bartlett states.

At the time of the floods last spring, it was found that it will be advisable to have the ditch re-dug, as in its present condition it might interfere with the sewage disposal and drainage systems. James Stearns, who is in charge of the sewage and water department, is making arrangements for the start of work on restoring the old ditch.

Isabelle Horton, Bristol Township, Is Buried Here

Was Born in Antioch in 1867, Daughter of Pioneer

Mrs. Horton, who was born in Antioch Dec. 11, 1867, the daughter of William S. and Isabelle Westlake, passed away Sunday morning. She had been ill for some time. The body lay in state at the home until Wednesday morning.

Her husband, Eldora Horton, preceded her in death seven years ago. Survivors include a son, William, of Antioch; two other sons, Russell and Charles, of Pleasant Prairie, Wis.; and a daughter, Pearl, of Chicago. Another daughter, Lillian, died in 1921. There are seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Lake County Defense Corps Awarded Banner

Excellence of the Lake County Civilian Defense council and its many subsidiary organizations has won for it the award of a "V-Town" banner from the Illinois War council, Paul King, Civilian Defense co-ordinator for Lake county, was informed this week.

Announcement of the award was made in a letter received by King from Frank Parker, executive director of the war council. The Lake county defense set-up is regarded as one of the three most efficient of the 102 counties in the state.

King declared that all of the credit for Lake county's achievements in defense activities rests with members of the defense council, and the members of the various organizations affiliated with it who look upon the work of protecting Lake county as a serious business.

"Many of the men and women attached to the council and the various units put in much time each week in furthering the activities, and deserve all of the praise that can be given them," King said.

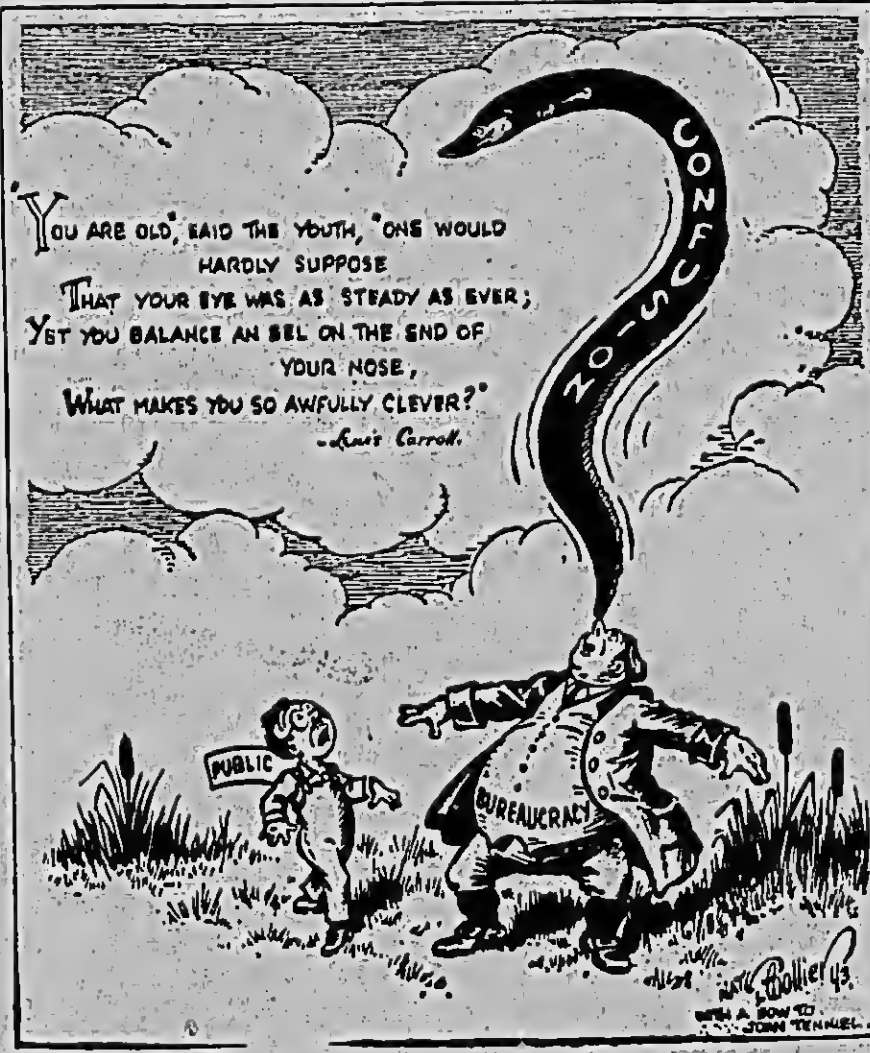

Lake Villa Motorists Warned to Get Licenses

"Get going now, in this matter, to avoid being picked up," is his direct-to-the-point advice to all who have not as yet purchased their village vehicle tags.

Reinbach also announces that the 1943 hunting licenses have arrived.

Antioch Rescue Squad Continues Plans for Dance

Women to Aid Squad Members in Preparations for Party August 25

Wives of Antioch Rescue squad members are co-operating in preparations for the squad's annual benefit dance, Wednesday evening, August 25, in the Channel Lake pavilion.

The dance, for which a six-piece band will furnish the music, is expected to be a gala affair. Advance ticket sales indicate a large attendance.

Sandwiches and other refreshments will be available at booths during the evening.

All proceeds will be used for the maintenance and operating expenses of the squad.

Members Donate Services

Squad members, who are Red Cross trained, donate their time and services in their first aid work, which has been highly commended by physicians of this and adjoining areas. Many have even purchased at their own expense supplies and equipment which they have used.

A large part of the squad's purchases of valuable equipment, including the rescue truck, splints used for transporting persons suffering broken limbs, inhalators, etc., has been procured through voluntary contributions on the part of the public. The village of Antioch also makes a contribution to its operating expenses, although the squad does not confine its aid to this area, but answers all calls at all times.

Has Educational Program

Through the co-operation of Antioch's squadmen and lay instructors, nearby communities have been enabled to make progress in the training of first aid workers, and to lay the groundwork for the organization of similar units.

The squad is at the disposition of the Red Cross for answering disaster calls, and works in close co-operation with physicians and with highway patrols, the Antioch fire department and other agencies, in aiding accident victims.

Over a period of years, it has maintained first aid units on the grounds at all large gatherings, such as festivals and carnivals sponsored by civic and social organizations, in Antioch.

On holidays when a large volume of traffic was flowing through the lakes region, it has maintained highway first aid patrols which on a number of occasions have been able to give immediate help to accident victims.

Through a program of public education and the sponsorship of first aid classes, it has also endeavored to cut down the number of accidents occurring in homes, and at work and recreation.

The entire membership of the squad is joining in preparations for the dance next Wednesday, which is its major social event of the year.

It will be open to the general public as well as to people of the lakes region. Tickets may be obtained from squad members or at the door.

Legion Announces Plans for National Convention

Discharged veterans of the present war will join with veterans of the first World War for the first time in an American Legion national convention, August 27-30, in Chicago. Representatives of the Antioch post attending will be C. L. Heath, retiring commander, and Floyd Horton, the new commander. Delegates from the auxiliary will be Mrs. Eva Burnette and Mrs. Anne Heath, with Mrs. Lillian Hland and Mrs. Carolyn Horan as alternates.

A memorial service for those killed in action since Dec. 6, 1941, will be conducted in Grant park Sunday morning, Aug. 20.

On Saturday evening, Aug. 28, a public induction of several hundred recently discharged soldiers, sailors and marines will be held in Victory Plaza, in front of the Chicago City hall.

A five-hour parade will be held Sunday afternoon, Aug. 29.

Storms Sunday Cause Damage on Two Farms

Considerable damage was reported from various localities as the aftermath of scattered storms Sunday afternoon and evening.

Earl Harms of Route 1, Spring Grove, suffered the loss of a valuable Guernsey cow, which apparently was struck by lightning some time Sunday night, while out in the pasture.

Farm implements, including a combine, tractor, and various other pieces of machinery difficult to obtain at the present time, were a total loss when lightning set fire to a large machinery and tool shed on the property of Walter Rasch, Slades Corners, Sunday evening, around 9:15 o'clock. A quantity of baled straw at one end of the shed increased the blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Pullen of Zion spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Don Andersen, Park avenue.

The Medical Hills Marvells baseball team of Lake Zurich, Ill., has announced that it is interested in scheduling games for the remainder of the season. The boys, who play hard baseball only, average around 17 years of age, and are said to play a fast game. They will travel, or play on their home field. Inquiries may be addressed to Helen Jurs, secretary, at Lake Zurich.

Autumn's Bright Blue Weather

It's getting along toward that time of the year when even practical folks wax poetical about the beauties of autumn.

And, folks, isn't it a wonderful time of the year? We're past the worst of summer's heat, winter's cold weather isn't here yet; the harvests are being gathered in, fruits and vegetables—and in non-ration, non-war times, "fryers" abound; flowers are still blooming—and there isn't that spring mud underfoot.

We've heard some people say it seemed almost sinful to enjoy the beauty of these surroundings and this weather while others were suffering elsewhere. We don't feel like that ourselves. It seems to us as if we'd be flying in the face of Providence not to be glad there's some beauty left in the world yet.

Seems as if some of these lovely autumn days just give us the courage to keep on going—as if they're God's promise that no matter what tragedies befall, he'll still keep the birds singing and the flowers blooming, and the seasons going their appointed round for us.

The soldier who wrote about the poppies blooming between the crosses in Flanders fields must have thought this, too.

Sometimes we lose heart and think there is little left in the world but selfishness and greed, but when we see how nature keeps her promises, in spite of her occasional fickleness or downright cruelty; when we look out at a day as beautiful as some we've had this week—why we just take heart again and realize that the good things and the eternal truths do outlast the bad ones.

So let's enjoy "Autumn's bright blue weather." We'd be downright ungrateful if we didn't.

Antioch's Water Is Safe

Reading in the Chicago papers of the concern felt there by health departments over the possibility that the water supply might carry certain diseases, we again give thanks that Antioch has been blessed with a more than adequate supply of safe, pure water, drawn from the village's two deep wells.

Over a period of many years, state tests have disclosed this water to be "safe" for drinking purposes. These tests have been taken from near the pumping station, and also at various points in the village, particularly where it was felt that the water main system might permit less circulation than at others.

In each case, all specimens have been approved, and the bacteria count was found negligible, and no objectionable mineral matter was noted.

On hot days when a person just drinks one glass of water after another, this all gives us a nice, safe feeling—and we can welcome our summer visitors with a clear conscience.

"A Little Helps A Lot"

Many a lad in the South Seas, many a man in the Pacific northwest, in Africa, or other outposts of the war, has written in to express his thanks to the Antioch American Legion post for its remembrances to those now in the armed forces of this country.

"You went through it yourself—you know what it's like," is the general idea of many of these letters.

In past years the Legion and its affiliated organizations have always had programs of social service. The war has stepped up the tempo and the amount of work required of these organizations, and the Legion has increased the scope of its services.

In recognition of the worthwhileness of this work, there has been wholehearted support on the part of the general public.

We'd just like to add a word of approval here ourselves for the work done by the Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary and other associated groups—and also for the support given by the general public.

While to those who do this work it may often seem inadequate, compared to their thoughts of what could be done, we have the word of the boys themselves that "It sure helps!"

Alfalfa Requires Phosphorus

The alfalfa plant develops abnormally in phosphorus-deficient soils. Short fine stems with small pointed grayish-green leaves are typical symptoms. The color of deficient alfalfa is only slightly different from good healthy alfalfa but a little experience will enable the grower to recognize the phosphorus deficiency. A plant or an animal will struggle against its surroundings in the attempt to survive. It does not show its needs until they are severe.

A message for you...from 1953

(Today, John Jones is just an average American, wrestling with all the doubts and worries and problems that beset every one of us right now. But let's skip ahead 10 years. Let's look at John Jones then—and listen to him . . .)

SOMETIMES I feel so good it almost scares me.

"This house—I wouldn't swap a shingle off its roof for any other house on earth. This little valley, with the pond down in the hollow at the back, is the spot I like best in all the world.

"And they're mine. I own 'em. Nobody can take 'em away from me.

"I've got a little money coming in, regularly. Not much—but enough. And I tell you, when you can go to bed every night with nothing on your mind except the fun you're going to have tomorrow—that's as near Heaven as a man gets on this earth!

"It wasn't always so.

"Back in '43—that was our second year of war, when we were really getting into it—I needed cash. Taxes were tough, and then Ellen got sick. Like most everybody else, I was buying War Bonds through the Payroll Plan—and I figured on cashing some of them in. But sick as she was, it was Ellen who talked me out of it.

"Don't do it, John!" she said. "Please don't! For the first time in our lives, we're really saving money. It's wonderful to know that every single payday we have more money put aside! John, if we can only keep up this saving, think what it can mean! Maybe someday you won't have to work. Maybe we can own a home. And oh, how good it would feel to know that we need never worry about money when we're old!"

"Well, even after she got better, I stayed away from the weekly poker game—quit dropping a little cash at the hot spots now and then—gave up some of the things a man feels he has a right to. We made clothes do—cut out fancy foods. We didn't have as much fun for awhile but we paid our taxes and the doctor and—we didn't touch the War Bonds.

Newly-Wed Couple
To Reside at Wilnot

Making their home at the Pagel place in Wilnot Hills are Alvin A. Pagel, of Wilnot and his bride, the former Miss Dolores Alice Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moran of Trevor, whose marriage took place in Peace Lutheran church at Wilnot Saturday evening, July 26.

The service was read by the Rev. R. P. Otto in the presence of relatives and friends. The altar was decorated with baskets of cut flowers.

Mrs. Emma Schultz sang, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and "O Perfect Love," accompanied at the organ by Miss Darlene Schenning, during the processional.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of white satin, fashioned on princess lines, with a lace-trimmed bodice and neckline. The skirt extended into a sweeping court train, and a fingertip veil of sheer illusion, was caught at the head with a tiara trimmed with seed pearls. A gold locket, which had belonged to her mother was her only other adornment. Her bouquet was of white roses and baby's breath.

Pink roses and white baby's breath were carried by the maid of honor, Miss Charlotte Moran of Voltz Lake, cousin of the bride, who was groomed in blue taffeta and lace with a matching shoulder length veil falling from a tiara.

Carl Grulich, Salem, was best man and the ushers were Adolph Fiegel of Burlington and Charles Moran of Voltz Lake.

A reception for 200 relatives and friends was held at Redwood Lodge, where a huge tiered wedding cake was featured at the bride's table.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended the Union Free High school at Wilnot.

Several showers were given in honor of the approaching marriage. The maid of honor held a personal shower at her home on Voltz Lake. Mrs. Charles Pella of Burlington was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at her home and Mrs. John Hompesky of Liberty Corners also honored the bride with a coin shower.

JESUS CHRIST—AND WE
Christ has no hands but our hands
To do his work today;
He has no feet but our feet
To lead men in His way;
He has no tongue but our tongues
To tell men how He died;
He has no help but our help
To bring them to His side.

We are the only Bible
The careless world will read;
We are the sinner's gospel,
We are the sinner's creed;
We are the Lord's last message
Given in deed and word—
What if the line is crooked?
What if the type is blurred?

What if our hands are busy
With other work than His?
What if our feet are walking
Where sin's allurements lie?
What if our tongues are speaking
Of things His lips would spurn?
How can we hope to help Him
Unless from Him we learn?

Record Low Temperature
Recorded Here This Week

If you reached for another blanket some time in the sleepy early morning hours today, or yesterday, or Tuesday, you were not wrong in thinking that it was really chilly, according to Postmaster Roy J. Kufalk, government weather observer for Antioch.

Today's early morning low temperature was 52° above zero, Fahrenheit. Wednesday morning saw a "low" of 50°, and Tuesday one of 51°. This is believed to be a record for these dates for Antioch.

Chicago observers reported an all-time record low of 53.9° Wednesday morning. The previous record was 54.3° in 1897.

The girls, who were riding on bicycles, were part of a group of 15 cyclists. They suffered bruises about the head and body and one of the bicycles was badly damaged.

A carload of dehydrated onions, shipped from California to New York, will save 54,000 car-miles, the statisticians say. Here is a fervent wish that they do not start drying watermelons, not this summer any way.

Brezina Hearing Is Postponed to Aug. 31

Arraignment of Erwin Brezina, Ingleside, of the Brezina Brewing company, Antioch, on a charge of purchasing 485 cases of stolen beer, has been postponed from August 16 to Aug. 31.

The hearing was to have been held before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, Chicago, since the cargo of beer was an interstate shipment from Milwaukee to Chicago, and the beer itself comes under U. S. Internal Revenue regulations.

A delay in the transfer of Walter Bartkowiak, Milwaukee truck driver who figured in the transaction, from the jurisdiction of the Milwaukee district of the federal courts to the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal courts was given as the reason for postponement of the case.

Riverview Park's 40th Year Is Proving Busy One

More Chicagoans and visitors to the city, young and old, are visiting Riverview Park's 144 acres of fun this year than ever before in the famous amusement center's forty-year history, it is reported.

This is apparently due to the "vacation at home" practice prevailing these days. People who thronged the highways in their leisure hours in times of gasoline abundance now are seeking means of amusement at closer range.

Riverview is also reported to be a popular haven for service men and women in the vicinity of Chicago, during their free time.

IF YOU HAVE NO CANNER, MAKE ONE

"All authorities on home canning advise that non-acid vegetables be canned by processing (cooking in jars) in a steam pressure cooker because a pressure cooker is the only household utensil that can retain a much hotter than boiling temperature. High temperatures are desirable when canning beans, peas, corn, greens, etc., because they insure more certain destruction of bacteria and because the canning can be done more quickly. But," says Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, who heartily approves using a pressure cooker whenever possible, "the time is at hand when we must be practical. Don't worry if you can't buy a pressure cooker for surely you can find a wash boiler, food can, baby bath tub or some deep container in which water can be boiled. Tack a few strips of wood together to make a rack or platform to hold the jars about one-half inch from the bottom of the container. Find something, even if it has to be a board, to use as a lid. Then you will have a water-bath canner for those Victory garden vegetables.

"You are afraid to eat vegetables canned that way? Nonsense! A lot of folks who say a water bath can't be used were raised on vegetables canned by that method. But let's get three things clear before we go any further: first, there have been a few instances of poisoning from eating canned vegetables; second, oil such danger can be avoided by boiling the canned vegetables 15 minutes before tasting or serving—they should be re-boiled before serving if left from one meal to the next; third, a pressure cooker is not a guarantee against spoilage. There will be spoilage if the pressure gauge registers too low or if poor judgment is used in the selection, preparation, and packing of food into the jars. And don't let anybody tell you otherwise.

"Now, back to the water bath. The water should be steaming but not boiling when the jars are lowered into it and deep enough to cover the tops of the jars two or more inches. No water won't get into the jars if directions are followed. The water should be brought to boiling as quickly as possible and kept boiling steadily throughout the canning period.

"Any jar suitable for use in home canning (and only those with names lettered on them are suitable) may be used for water-bath processing. Mason jars may be sealed with one-piece zinc cap and rubber—if you can find the caps—with glass top seal, or with two-piece vacuum seal caps. Glass top seal/closures and vacuum caps seal on the top edge of the jar, therefore it is necessary to make sure the top edges of the jars are even, smooth, and perfect in every respect. The bands are screwed down tight on the vacuum seals as soon as the jars are filled to within from one to one-half inch of the top, and should not be tightened again. Zinc caps are screwed down on the rubber and then loosened slightly. Bands for glass top seals are screwed down and then loosened. This tightening and loosening is called 'partly sealing' and should always be done before jars are placed in a canner. Seals are completed by tightening caps or bands immediately after processing.

"Then there is the jar with a glass lid and rubber ring held in place with wires—it is ideal for canning, especially when fitted with high-tension, stretch-proof, steel wire. It is partly sealed before and completely sealed after processing.

"Those who select vegetables that are young, tender, and right out of the garden, and waste no time in washing them clean, cooking them five to ten minutes, and pouring into clean, hot jars and processing immediately, will live to laugh at those who say it can't be done. It is the Cans, not the Cans' who are going to win the war on both home and battle front."

Weed Growth

Of the 406 weeds listed as growing in New York state, 30 per cent are native, 68 per cent have been introduced, and 8 per cent are native to some parts of the state but have been introduced to other parts of the state where they have become weeds.

Save Vegetable Juices

Vegetables should be cooked as rapidly as possible and in small amounts of water. Juices and cooking water should be saved for soup making or other purposes. Vegetables are best when eaten immediately after cooking but leftover portions should not be wasted.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Southwest Pacific Campaigns Unfold With Decisive Victories Against Japs; Allied Chiefs Confer for Sixth Time; WPB: 'Essential Civilian Goods Only'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC: 'Victory Sure'

The Allies' Solomons and New Guinea campaign unfolded in a victorious pattern: Munda lay stormed. Allied troops beat their way through the thick jungle foliage toward Salamaua. The big guns of America's fleet battered at the enemy's faltering supply line. Raging U. S. airmen gave heartened ground troops assistance by machine gunning and bombing the Japs in low level attacks.

From his headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared:

"The margin was close, but it was conclusive.

"Although for many reasons our victories may have lacked in glamorous focus, they have been decisive in the final result in the Pacific.

"I make no predictions as to the time and detail, but Japan, on the Pacific front, has exhausted the fullest resources of the concentrated attack of which she was capable."

After one month of fighting, three German divisions stood behind in Sicily for a suicidal rear-guard action, against the overwhelming air and ground superiority of the Allies. As the campaign neared its finale, the Rome radio announced that all Italian troops had been pulled out of the embattled island.

With the bulk of the Allies' 10 divisions bearing down through the sloping valley below Mt. Etna to encompass the last two important communication lines running north and south, and with fleets of bombers pulverizing important Axis concentration centers, the ring around the enemy was drawn tighter.

Heaven into the rugged country, German strongholds put up a bitter, last-ditch fight against the advance of Allied machine-gunning and throwing mortar fire at Allied troops picking their way slowly up the open, craggy hills. Wherever they fell back, the Germans were dynamiting the hill or mountain sides to block off the roads.

DADS' DRAFT: Congress May Act

Congressional action to settle the controversial question of the induction of fathers loomed with the announcement of Representative Andrew J. May that he would introduce a bill prohibiting the drafting of dads when the legislators reconvene September 14.

Importance of the development lay in the fact that May is chairman of the military affairs committee, on which the house relies for judgment in army matters. May said that with 10 million men already under arms and with 20,000 18-year-olds being inducted each month, the army is of sufficient size.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

RUSSIAN OIL: Pay rates of Russian oil field and refinery workers have been raised to stimulate production, says a dispatch from Moscow. Basic wages will now be based on nine levels, two new ones for specialists having been added. Commentators believe that the new oil industry scale is the first step toward greater recognition of experienced, valuable workers.

COFFEE PLASTIC: Thousands of articles, from radio cabinets to airplane wings, can be made of a new plastic derived from coffee, says Dr. Argen Guimaraes, new consul from Brazil. The new substance, still in the experimental stage, is called "cafelite." The consul believes that a great new market will be opened for coffee, one of Brazil's principal crops.

SOMEbody ELSE PAYS!

This is one time the woman doesn't pay and pay! An unemployed 39-year-old Texan wrote the war department's office of dependency benefits, asking if he could apply for a family allowance on the basis of his wife's service as a WAC.

From the looks of things, the gent will have to get a job after all, for the army's answer left no room for doubt or argument: It was a very positive "NO!"

Beginning September 1, when the WACs officially became a part of the army, they may apply for family allowances for dependent children, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and other specified relatives—but not for husbands!

NORMANDIE: Right Side Up

With high tide in, the great hull of the former French luxury liner, Normandie, heaved gently and came to rest at a 40 degree angle in the New York dock, where she had capsized 18 months ago after a disastrous fire.

Within the huge hull, 50,000 gallons of water still remained, half of the 100,000 gallons which had filled the hold when 98 pumps first began emptying the stricken vessel. To President Roosevelt, Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York gave major credit for the salvage job, declaring that the President is an amateur seaman offered a suggestion for the most efficient concentration of the pumps for drawing the water.

At the time the Normandie, renamed the USS Lafayette, fell over on her side to come to rest at a 79 degree angle, the navy was completing work on her reconstruction as a troopship, with the cost estimated at $20,000,000. Salvage operations already have exceeded $3,000,000 and an additional $750,000 will be required for refitting the hull. When originally built, the Normandie cost $59,000,000.

MEAT: Sees More Supplies

Beef production will rise 20 per cent in the last half of 1943 and pork output will increase 10 per cent, Wesley Hardenbergh, president of the American Meat Institute, estimated. As a whole, there should be a 17 per cent boost in meat supply.

During the fiscal year which began last July 1, meat consumption should total 14 billion, 700 million pounds, Hardenbergh said. Two out of every three pounds will be available to civilians.

During the first seven months of 1943, the department of agriculture announced that 35,321,213 hogs had been slaughtered against 30,312,651 in the same period last year; 5,927,660 cattle had been butchered against 6,805,660; and 11,379,504 sheep and lambs had been killed against 10,917,738.

AGRICULTURE: Income Soars

Farm income for the first half of 1943 totaled $2,202,000,000 against $6,215,000,000 last year, the department of agriculture reported. Marketing of a large part of the record crops of last year contributed to the big upturn, the department said.

Cash receipts from crops during the first half of 1943 topped last year's receipts by 45 per cent, while income from livestock and livestock products showed a 31 per cent increase.

Of the total income in the first half, government payments accounted for $400,000,000. This compared with last year's payments of $131,000,000.

Farmers on Own

Declaring "This country is too broad, too far flung, too varied in its production to have the work done by directives in Washington," War Food Administrator Marvin Jones called upon the farmers and stockmen of America for a voluntary effort to reach the nation's food goals.

Previously, Jones had announced that the government plans no 1944 crop controls, except on tobacco, no acreage allotments, no marketing quotas and no benefit payments for compliance with control. In the hands of state, county and community organizations will be the development of the production program, Jones said.

"While we may not have as great a choice of foods as we have been accustomed to heretofore," Jones said, "I have no doubt that the civilian population of this country will have a sufficient amount of good, wholesome food."

TAX REPORTS:

In an effort to simplify federal tax reports, the treasury has undertaken a special study of tax laws. Officials stated that reports may not be required of some classes of taxpayers, if the burden of paper work can be reduced without loss of revenue.

No matter what results from the investigation, however, there will be no immediate change in regulations, officials pointed out. Approximately 15 million income tax payers will have to file an estimate of 1943 income on September 15.

Blood Tests of Hogs To Stem Abortions

Healthy Looking Swine Can Carry Disease

"Typhoid Mary," who a few decades ago unwittingly spread typhoid fever, although not appearing to be ill from the disease herself, has a present-day counterpart in swine which perpetuate infectious or contagious abortion by farrowing apparently healthy litters that may spread the disease.

More than 2,300 blood samples from approximately 32 herds in different parts of the state were tested last year by the department of animal pathology and hygiene at the University of Illinois college of agriculture. About 10 per cent proved to be reactors.

Invariably introduced into healthy herds through the purchase of apparently healthy gilts, sows or boars, the contagious type of abortion can be definitely diagnosed by blood testing all breeding animals in the herd. Results of the test and approved methods of management will enable owners to prevent and control the disease intelligently.

A testing and management program has been outlined by the extension service of the college of agriculture to guide purebred swine breeders in preventing and controlling this malady. Two negative blood tests of all breeding stock in the herd at intervals of six months entitle owners of clean herds to accreditation certificates issued by the state department of agriculture. The disease control plan involves the cooperation of the local veterinarian. Although no charge is made for testing blood samples, owners pay for collecting them. Sterile vials for collecting blood samples are supplied by the laboratory.

All reactors to the test should be fattened for market, but if they are not marketed, they should be isolated at the time of farrowing. Such isolation is only a temporary expedient, since the ultimate aim of herd owners is to eliminate all infected animals. Normal litters from infected sows may be placed in quarantine and raised free from disease. After reacting animals have been marketed, the premises should be cleaned and disinfected.

Ramie Fiber

As soon as someone invents a practical machine to tear out ramie fiber ready for spinning, this country will have a new industry. Ramie can be grown especially well in the Gulf states and large yields have been obtained in Louisiana and Florida.

The plant has been grown in China for 3,000 years and was used extensively for cloth before cotton was introduced. In China it is cut, crushed and cleaned by hand, and one man's work only produces from two to six pounds of fiber in a day. To be practical here, the industry would have to be completely mechanized.

Ramie was first brought to the United States about 1855. Experiments in growing this plant have been conducted by private individuals, state agricultural experiment stations and the United States department of agriculture in many states. The most extensive plantings of 40 to 50 acres have been carried on by men who were developing decorating machines.

There are several plants spinning ramie in this country, and the domestic fiber will find a ready market as soon as machines are developed to extricate the fiber. It has great strength when wet and will not mildew. The fiber is particularly attractive and is so soft and lustrous that as much as 20 per cent ramie may be mixed with silk without changing the appearance.

Cutting Pulpwood

In cutting pulpwood, farmers should know what types of trees to take out. It is also important to know how to cut the timber stand properly. The key to a productive forest is to maintain a good growing stock. A good stand of trees should be left.

All trees which are to be taken out should be carefully marked, and especially so where the job of harvesting is to be turned over to others.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

GOD GIVES LAWS FOR HIS PEOPLE

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 23:1-9; Galatians 3:23-25; 5:13-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.—Luke 10:27.

Our God is a God of order. To have order we must have law, hence God gave His people not only the fundamental law of humanity's moral sense of right and wrong, and the Ten Commandments which are the basis of all codes of law, but also those detailed regulations needed for the law's interpretation.

The law of God was not intended to establish a legalistic system of salvation by work, but, as revealed in the New Testament, it was to guide and bring us to Christ, in whom it finds its true fulfillment.

These are matters of fundamental importance and suggest the need of a careful study of our three Scripture portions.

I. The Law Established (Exod. 23:1-9)

At Sinai the Israelites were brought into the presence of God in a dramatic and solemn assembly to hear the words of God from the mountain. These were later written as the Ten Commandments on the tables of stone. Here they learned in a new way of the majesty, the righteousness, and the love of God.

The Ten Commandments are recognized as the foundation on which all legal codes, ancient and modern, are built. They cover man's relation to God and his relation to his fellow man. They are unsurpassed as a comprehensive and compact statement of the moral law.

The passage in Exodus 23 gives us some of the rules and regulations for daily life which are in a sense an interpretation of the law. This portion gives us an idea of the type of laws provided by God for His people and reveals "the moral flavor of the whole divine legislation."

The thing which impresses us as we read of the divine requirements of justice toward all, of love for one's enemies, of refraining from false witness, of refusing all bribery, is that God's standards are very high.

God's law is good, it is right, of divine quality and perfect purity. It has, however, an even higher purpose than providing direction for life. We learn of that as we hear

II. The Law Described (Gal. 3:23-25)

What was the purpose of the law? It was and is a servant of God to lead the needy sinner to Christ. The word "tutor" in verse 24 does not refer to one who teaches, but the servant who saw to it that the school boy, possibly a bit reluctant, arrived at his destination.

The law convicts of sin and makes it evident to the repentant one that he needs divine help if he is ever to meet his demands. The law really puts a man in prison (kept in ward, v. 23), and makes him look to Christ to set him free.

When one trusts Christ he comes into the place of a son. He enters upon a spiritual maturity which makes it no longer necessary to have a tutor directing and disciplining him. He has entered into a new relationship by faith, and is a child of God.

Does this mean that the law has been set aside or abrogated? Not at all. Jesus Himself said, "Think not that I am come to destroy the law, but to fulfill" (Matt. 5:17). This is our third point.

III. The Law Fulfilled (Gal. 5:13, 14)

Paul had warned against the folly of legalism. In Christ men are free from a slavish bondage to the law. But men, desiring to substitute license for liberty, were using the grace of God as an excuse for self-indulgence and sin.

Christ has set aside all the ceremonial requirements of the law, for He became the perfect, once-for-all sacrifice for sin, which was infinitely superior to all the offerings of the Old Testament law. He thus fulfilled the type of the offerings.

The moral requirements of the law were gathered up in Him, and in Him we have only one law to fulfill, the law of love. Obedience to that law meets all the moral requirements of the Old Testament law.

Liberty to the Christian is not a freedom to do as he pleases, not "an occasion to the flesh" that it may live in selfishness and sin. We are free only to be bound by the blessed law of love.

The tablets of stone were (and still are) important. Their laws have never been set aside or withdrawn. But in Christ God has done what He spoke of through Jeremiah the prophet. He has put His law in the Christian's inner being, and has written it in his heart. (Jer. 31:33)

SOME VICTORY RULES FOR CANNING VICTORY VEGETABLES

Canning without rules is like driving in a strange country without a road map—one is likely to go in the wrong direction. The wrong direction in canning leads to spoiled food—loss of canned food through spoilage is deplorable and unnecessary in time of peace, and inexcusable in time of war.

Glady's Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, gives the following sure-fire rule for successful home-canning:

1. Use jars intended for home-canning. Every one of them has a name lettered on the side.
2. Examine every jar to make sure that it is in good condition. Give special attention to the top edges of Mason jars. Most of them must be sealed with glass top seal closures or two-piece metal vacuum seals, because the zinc that used to go into the one-piece Mason caps has gone to the battle front. The glass top and vacuum seals can take the zinc cap's place on the home front only when used on jars with perfect top edges.
3. Do not stretch rubbers to test.
4. Wash and rinse jars, lids and rubbers. Then cover jars, zinc caps, and glass lids with lukewarm water, heat to boiling, and keep hot. Jars and lids to be used for old-fashioned open-kettle canning must be boiled 20 to 30 minutes. Wash rubbers and vacuum-seal lids, drop into boiling water, and keep hot until needed if to be used for processing (cooking food in jars). They must be boiled to sterilize for open-kettle canning.
5. Get canners and jars ready before starting to prepare vegetables.
6. Use vegetables that are fresh from the garden. The alien enemies, mould, yeast and bacteria, stand ready to sabotage any and all vegetables left standing over night or all through a long, hot morning.
7. Be sure that everything to be canned is at the right stage for canning. Shelled beans and peas should be young and tender—a few over-size or over-mature ones can cause the loss of the whole batch. The pods of string beans should be crisp and meaty—corn in full milk stage—and tomatoes red-ripe, firm, and sound. Wash all fruits and vegetables before breaking the skins.
8. Hot pack all vegetables except tomatoes. Hot pack means to cook the food a few minutes, then pour it into hot jars for processing. This is also the best way to can most fruits.
9. Fill no more jars at a time than your canner will hold.

10. Leave ample head space and plenty of room for liquid to circulate between pieces of food when filling jars for processing.

11. Tighten metal bands on two-piece metal vacuum seal caps before processing. Do not tighten again.

12. Partly seal for processing, all jars on which a jar rubber is used.

13. Place jars in the canner immediately after packing and process the time called for in the recipe. Remember, time guessing has no place in canning.

14. Take jars out of canner as promptly as possible after the processing time is up and complete the seal on all that are partly sealed for processing (see Rule 12).

15. Set hot jars as far apart as possible so they will cool quickly, but do not place in a draft.

16. Be sure every jar of canned food is sealed before it is put away.

a. Take the bands off glass top seals after the jars have stood over night and test the seal by pulling gently on lid with finger tips. Don't put the bands back on the jars.

b. Remove bands from vacuum seals 12 or 15 hours after canning and test the seal by pressing on the lid with the finger. If tightly sealed, there will be no "give" to the lid. Don't put the bands back on the jars.

c. One-piece zinc caps are drawn down flat when sealed. Do not turn Mason jars upside down—this rule applies when using glass top seals, vacuum seals, and zinc caps.

d. Test "lightning" jars after they are cold by holding them upside down and examining for leaks.

17. Be snicky when it comes to cleanliness. Get rid of house flies. Remember, they prefer food to foot tub for foot washing.

18. Don't ask your neighbor how to can. She may not be as up-to-date as she thinks she is. It is far better to get a good recipe book and follow directions to the letter.

As good a one as can be bought costs only a dime.

NOTARY PUBLIC AND JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

With the Army Air Force schedules calling for a 300% increase in production of these powerful bomber engines in 1943, this Northern Illinois war plant is relying on a constant and abundant supply of Electric Power to achieve this goal.

Turning out

Bomber Engines on a volume scale

Here in Northern Illinois the manufacturer of these huge 14-cylinder, radial bomber engines has long ago surpassed original schedules of production. That record and today's accelerated volume output are a credit to efficient management and technical skill... backed by the dynamic energy of Electric Power.

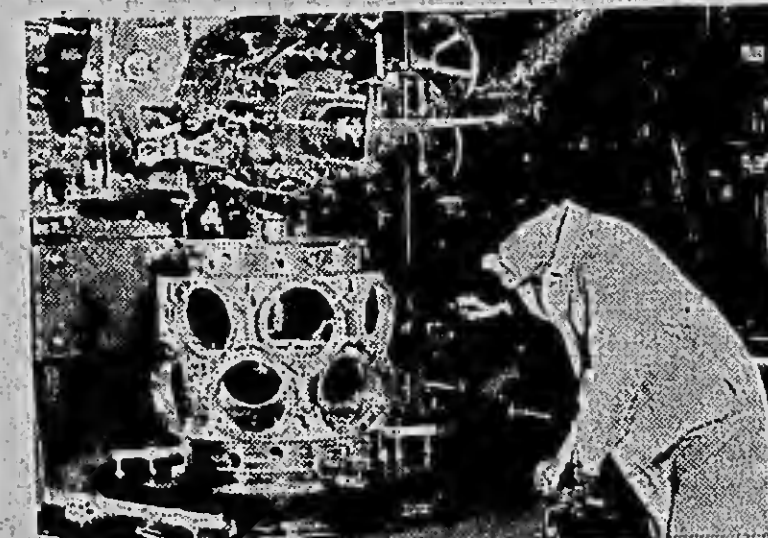

This mighty force of mass production keeps thousands of machines working. It drives the lathes and drills... runs the grinding and stamping machines... propels the huge cranes and conveyors.

Supplying Electric Power for the production of bomber engines, and all other war equipment turned out in this area, is our wartime assignment.

Electric Power Speeds War Production

A view of an engine in a test cell and a few of the many instruments and meters used to measure the engine performance. Adequate power from our lines makes possible economical recovery of electrical energy from operating engines during these test runs to meet part of the power requirements in this plant.

In this great aircraft engine plant, Electric Power has cut the time required to prepare an engine for testing from more than 4 hours to only 20 minutes.

Electricity has gone to war—don't waste it!

Headed for Paris—According to the late Lieut. Gen. John A. Lejeune some units of U. S. marines were still fighting an hour after hostilities ceased on November 11, 1918, "because they were so far in advance that we couldn't get word to them that the fighting had stopped. In fact, one of our platoons learned from the Germans that the war was over."

Get Sugar From Wood—Much of Europe's present sugar supply is derived from wood, as the result of a process perfected in Sweden which makes it possible to obtain two-thirds of a pound of sugar from one pound of any kind of wood.

food, we have our own setup, which isn't bad. Someone said that we were the best-fed APO in Africa."

St. Sgt. Frank T. Farm writes from Camp Kearney Mesa, San Diego, Cal. "This is interesting work and I like it very much."

"Learning to be a radio operator is plenty tough, but it is a swell chance to learn radio," writes Pvt. Leith J. Eppers, Marine Aviation Det., Naval Training School, Co. 30A, Texas A & M, College Station, Texas.

From Pvt. Luis B. Guerrero, 31st Transport Sqdn., APO 610, New York, N. Y.: "In spite of everything we are up against here, we are getting along fine. My very best wishes to all friends."

Lt. Robert Bureh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Bureh, Antioch, has been home on furlough from duty at a station on the west coast.

Staff Sgt. Harry Nelson, who has been on foreign service in radio work, attached to a combat crew, arrived home Wednesday to spend a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Boyer Nelson. This is his first visit home in seven months.

Well, we laughed at Gus Mantis, proprietor of the Antioch cafe, when he told us he could see signs of the breakdown of Germany, about a year and a half ago. Maybe he'll turn out to be a prophet yet.

We see where quite a few of the farmers have finished their threshing. And that, what with the crickets singing 'n' everything, just seems to bring autumn closer and closer. Seems like, when we was a kid, summer seemed to last forever. Now it just lasts like a day.

You'd never guess it at a casual glance, but the flower garden that fills the front and back lawn of the Arthur G. Hartnell place in Salem is really a lot of little gardens—a sunken garden, an iris garden, a formal garden, and so on—all blended into one composite whole. Lots of garden clubs make pilgrimages there. The location is the site of the old American hotel, and the present house is built on the hotel's original foundations, although the building itself was torn down. The back yard, now in bloom, once held only a conglomeration of old sheds. It took years to effect the transformation that has taken place in the appearance of the place. Gardening started out as a hobby for Mrs. Hartnell. It's practically a career with her now.

We have received copies of two interesting English publications from Arthur B. Mapletchorpe. They are the Lincolnshire Chronicle, whose circulation includes the area that was "Archie's" former home, and the Sunday Graphic.

The Lincolnshire Chronicle reflects the life of a region famous for its agriculture, and many of the advertisements that fill its front page could have been lifted bodily from any midwestern paper (including, of course, the Antioch News). Others, however, have an intriguing "difference." For instance, there is that "classified"—"Garthman wanted, no milking; plenty of work for family," or this—"Shepherd wanted for West Firby." These, however, sound familiar—"Labourer (experienced), good all-around man." Labourers required for work at gravel pits; also Night Watchman. "For Sale, portable sheep dipper, in perfect order." "Man wanted, able to drive tractor; experienced in all farm work and modern machinery." The news in the paper was o. k., but we LIKED the ads.
The Sunday Graphic, sent by Sgt. James Mapletchorpe, contains an article on one of the Flying Fortresses based in England.

can, Economist, Association of American Railroads. In a recent address, as "one of the most remarkable things" that the railroads have done since the beginning of the war.

From the Boston Post—Some people may have been surprised to read that a railroad in Maine has filed suit for damages against the driver of a truck which was in collision with a locomotive in a grade crossing accident.

If railroads can and do collect from motorists it certainly behooves the automobile driver to be extra careful at grade crossings, where the sign says, "Stop, look and listen."

—And then there was the judge who dismissed the prisoner brought up before him for stealing nine bottles of beer—on the grounds that nine bottles didn't make a case. Moronie, huh?

Almost all kinds of weather were represented in letters received by

Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Burnette recently from three sons in the service. Writing on the same date, Raymond, in Maine, reported that the nights were cold; Virgil, in Virginia, said it was raining; Richard, in Texas, admitted that it was hot down there. Besides being written on the same day, all three of the letters were received here on the same day.
